SECRET

Last week was a fairly good one among the fraternal orders. The lodges of the various organizations held their strated meetings with good attendances and a fair amount of degree work was done besides the general business incidental to lodges.

This is the first death that has ever occurred in the order in Heber, hence Mrs. Horner is the first in our town to ever receive the $2,000 which the A. O. U. W. pledges to pay to the widow and orphans of its decelsed members. The fact that the money has been turned over to the wife and children of the late W. E. Horner will be the means of forever putting at rest any doubts that may have existed in the minds of some as to the genuineness of the beneficiary features of the A. O. U. W. Mr. Horner joined the order on the 10th day of February, Issi, and died July 3, 1896, having been a member two years four months and twenty-one days, during which time he has paid out in beneficiary assessments, at the rate of $1 whenever the death of a member occurred, $48; and dental to lodges.

The Masons have now fairly got down to business after the summer recess and henceforth the regular convocations will be held. Tonight Mount Moriah lodge will hold a special meeting commencing at 6:39 o'clock. Work will be done in the master mason degree. Qualified the present. ified masons are invited to be present.

Mystic lodge No. 22 on Monday night last held a meeting that proved advantageous to all present. There were six card visitors from other jurisdictions, who entertained the lodge with interesting speeches. They related matters of interest that transpired in their several homes and what they had seen in visiting sister lodges during their travels. Tonight the degree staff, and full orchestra will be present, and the lodge will confer the degree of truth on several candidates. Wednesday night Ridgley and Enterprise lodges held their usual interesting meetings.

Utah lodge No. 1 on Thursday conferred the first degree on one candidate for advancement. The strendance was large.

Eagle Gate lodge No. 10 had a short session last Wednesday evening. On account of the entertainment there was nothing but routine business transacted. There will be two candidates for the junior degree next meeting night. After the lodge had finished its business the doors were thrown open to the members and friends of the order. While the attendance was not as large as was expected, what they lost in numbers was made up in quality and Numbers 5, 2 and 17 met and transacted a fair amount of business.

Miriam Rebekah lodge No. 5 met Saturday night and had a good meeting, which all enjoyed.

Ester Rebekah lodge No. 8 on Tuesday last gave a card party which prov-ed a drawing card, as not less than two hundred were present, who spent the evening in progressive high five, listening to musical selections and soas was expected, what they lost in numbers was made up in quality and appreciation, as each number of the programme was warmly applauded.

The opening remarks by S. W. Darke, P. M. W., were timely and instructive. Brother John James sang the "Old Brigade" in good voice, for which he received an encore. Miss June Druce and Miss A. Ashbridge sang "The Old Bustle Bridge" in a year pleasing man. cial converse. Prof. Berkhoel played a beautiful violin solo accompanied by Mr. John Berkhoel, Miss Lizzle Smith entertained her audience with a song that was pleasing, and well ren-dered. Supper was served at a late heur by the ladies of No. 8. The enter-tainment was a success financially as well as socially.

Naomi lodge No. 1, went to Park City has many where they were royally entertained by the sisters of Silver Leaf Rebekah lodge No. 3. The visttors were shown the mines and mills, were entertained by Past Grand Master Parker at the Ontario, and at the meeting of No. 3 received a welcome which they will not soon forget.

The sovereign grand lodge, at its recent session, elected the following officers for the next two years: Fred Carleton, of Austin, Tex., grand sire; A. S. ## CHANGED HER MIND.

The Odd Fellow who is the chief and sure to cure. The Odd Fellow who is the chief character of this storyette was a mechanic. His wife was so opposed to his being in the order, and she spoke so forcibly of her opposition, that he did not attend often, and never spoke of his lodge. He worked for a company at fixed wages, and, as he was a healthy man, never sick, he and his family lived easily, but saved no money. Finally he was hurt so seriously that for a long time he was danously that for a long time he was dan-gerously ill, and, for several weeks, was unconscious.

Every evening after he became ill. two men, always strangers to her, came, and telling her they were sent to watch over her sick husband, insisted upon her retiring to rest for her own hard work during the day. She took it for granted, foolish, inexperiences woman, that the company for which her hurband worked was extending this kindness, and asked no questions.

The man had been sick a week. His money and they lived in a city where people have but little concern for their neighbor's poverty and misfortune. She heard a rap at the door. Upon opening it she was met by a gentleman, who handed her an envelope, stating that it was for Mrs. —, calling her by name. He turned away at once and left her holding the envelope. She left her holding the envelope. She opened it and was surprised to find—dollars. There was no word of explanation and, at tirst, she thought she would not use the money. She walted for a day or two for the man to return and rectify his mistake. Her great necessities led her to spend the money. At the end of the following week another envelope was left her. Again she found—dollars. She felt convinced, then, that, from whatever source, the money was really meant for her. Her tiusband slowly recovered. Every week—dollars came, enabling her. Her husband slowly recovered.

Every week — dollars came, enabling the wife to buy some nourishing things for the slek man. As soon as he was strong enough to listen and talk, she told him of the strange manner in which the money had come to her.

"Do you think it is money advanced by the company?" she asked.

"No. Marry" he answered. "That money was yours. It is money i have ben laying up for you."

"Ou!" she cried. "Why how?"

"That was my sick dues, dear," he answered." I shod by my lodge, Mary, aithough you wanted me to leave it. I held on, knowing that. If sickness should come to the, you would be provided for. On your account I have asked my lodge to say nothing to you of the order, but, had it not been for Odd Fellowship, you would have suffered during my liness."

The man recovered and returned to his work. One night his wife said:

"I would, indeed, like to go," he answered. "I would indeed, like to go," he answered. "I you going? she asked.

He looked surprised and pleased.

"I would indeed, like to go," he answered. "I you doing? she asked.

Lodge night came again, and the wife said:

"I wish you would go to lodge to hight and make some arrangements for mo to become a Rebekah."

To make the story short, she joined the order and became a most devoted and arden worker.
